- 1. Of the three objectives for this year, which will demand the greatest effort by you and your colleagues?

Objectives

1. Focus the content of the conversations within district principal learning teams and school PLCs on conditions which robust evidence tells us have the most powerful direct effects on student learning;
2. Deepen participants' understandings of effective PLC processes and refine their skills in managing such processes in their own PLCs; and,
3. Significantly extend principal and teacher capacities for effective literacy and numeracy instruction.

2. What concrete actions might you and your colleagues take to improve the five key school conditions in your schools?

3. In what areas (objectives, conditions) will you and your colleagues need the most support?
